Who's Your Hero?

This is a fun activity to try out on your friends, parents, or schoolmates. No matter what number they pick, you will be their hero!

Write down your favorite heroes in lines four to seven. On line NINE put your own name. Leave the first three lines blank and the person who you will "trick" will give you their three favorite heroes to fill in.

Below is an example of what you have to do and you can use the next page with the person you are "tricking". There is a blank list on Page 2.

EXAMPLE

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____

4. Harry Potter

5. Barack Obama

6. Scooby Doo

7. Albert Einstein

8. Hannah Montana

9. _____

10. Spiderman

Ask the person who you are tricking to write three of their favorite heroes on these lines.

Write some other heroes on these lines. There are more examples below.

Write your own name on this line.

Write another hero on this line. There are examples below.

Anyone can be a hero! The following is a list of some possible choices:

- my teacher, my coach, etc
- my mom, my dad, my aunt, etc
- a friend
- a sports person
- a music group
- Scooby Doo
- The Power Rangers
- The Power Puff Girls
- Hannah Montana
- Barack Obama
- Albert Einstein
- Spiderman
- SpongeBob
- Batwoman
- Jonas Brothers

Name: _____

Who's Your Hero?

Tell the person, "I know who your hero is!". Ask them to fill out the first three lines with their heroes. The rest should be filled out according to the instructions on Page 1.

Ask the person to pick their favorite number between one and nine.

Then follow these instructions:

1. Pick your favorite number between 1-9
2. Multiply by 3 then
3. Add 3, and then multiply by 3 again
(you can use a calculator...)
4. You'll get a 2 or 3 digit number...
5. Add the digits together...

EXAMPLE:

The person picks "5".

1. 5
2. $5 \times 3 = 15$
3. $15 + 3 = 18$
and $18 \times 3 = 54$
4. 54
5. $5 + 4 = 9$
